Isla Tours Australia

If you are a fan of Hank Williams and Isla Grant you are in for a double treat.

Isla is touring Australia and appears in South Australia at Mildura Arts Centre on Wednesday, 1 July 8pm and Norwood Concert Hall, Adelaide Friday, 3 July.
For Isla's tour details log onto www.islagrant.net

Isla Grant was born in Scotland and settled in the Scottish Borders. Her parents were dairy people and Isla spent many happy years with her parents and two older brothers on the farm. She loved the farm life and would help her father in the milking parlour at milking time and did for a while show Hereford Bulls at cattle shows.

Her love of music started at an early age when she would listen to her mother's Scottish and Irish records. Her brothers were at that time listening to jazz, pop and skiffle.

When Isla was about eight she used to pluck the strings on her oldest brothers guitar and eventually he gave her the guitar.

When she was about fourteen Isla started to sing in the folk clubs mainly in Scotland and in the north east of England, then she discovered Country Music and that changed her style in music.

She worked professionally in the Country Music scene until 1992 when she was involved in a serious road accident along with her husband Al.

Due to injuries in the accident Isla was off the road for five years and in that time she started composing more of her own material which led to a recording contract.

Now after eleven albums, some of which have gone triple platinum, Isla has branched out and started her own record label (I.G.E.) She releases her first album on her own label in October 2008.

This album is a tribute to the late Hank Williams and is titled "Isla Sings Hank".

Isla will be touring with her new album in the UK, Ireland, New Zealand and Australia over the next year.

Isla's husband Al is an artist in his own right but is always on stage with Isla playing bass guitar and giving a few songs.

Isla has three sons and three grandchildren and she also has a great love of animals with three dogs, and two cats who keep her busy when she is at home. Isla is also heavily involved in raising funds for the care of sick children.

Isla loves to tour. That's when she gets the chance to meet all her fans and tell them how much she appreciates all their support.

"I hope you enjoy my new album "Isla Sings Hank". This is my first album on my own record label, it has been a wonderful adventure finding the songs and recording them. So many people through the years have told me I'm like a female Hank, so I decided to pay my tribute to the great man"
