

That Woz the Day That Woz!

16th August 2009

Tracey Raines and Claypan played a mix of songs appealing to a range of tastes in music.

Dancers filled the dance floor and applauded with appreciation after each song

Dave Morrissey played sax, harmonica and sang.

Working Man is a song to remember.

Darren Smith walked on as the Man in Black and this lad could become very popular given a little more experience and confidence building.

Roger Howard is progressing by leaps and bounds. Choosing good songs and showing he's got what it takes to attract the crowd's attention and applause.

Claypan Bass player Rod with his partner (Sorry don't have name) took the stage for a few songs.

A good entertaining show with variety and all Live Music.

Thanks to everyone involved.
